Stretcher presents a series of artist editions by Margherita Raso, Mia Sanchez, Virginie Sistek, Karin Borer, and Daniel Kurth. The aim is to mainly support artists we have previously worked with. Stretcher is a not-for-profit project. Sixty percent of the proceeds go to the artists and the rest goes into future projects. This helps us to also work with people who are not eligible for public funding. Stretcher is an exhibition project and more, founded in 2023 by the artists Karin Borer and Daniel Kurth. Special thanks to the artists. For inquiries: contact@strrretcher.ch

From Porta Portese with Love
2024
Edition of 25 T-Shirts
CHF 38

The T-Shirt Edition From Porta Portese with Love features three pages of the book La pimpa e la talpa Camilla from 1999 (The Pimpa and the mole Camilla). Pimpa or La Pimpa is an Italian cartoon character created by Francesco Tullio Altan, whose main character is a red-spotted female dog. In this issue Pimpa has to return home after taking her friend Armando to work, but snow has covered the path and Pimpa gets lost. All of a sudden she spots smoke coming from a house; it is the lair of the mole Camilla. Her new friend Camilla helps Pimpa to get home through underground tunnels. La Pimpa debuted on July 13, 1975 in the Corriere dei Piccoli (Children's Courier) in which it was published until 1995. From 1987 it became the main character of a monthly children's magazine of the same name. The figure is also the subject of a large number of merchandising articles in Italy. The T-Shirts were collected on various Sundays from the Porta Portese market in Rome.
